THE SENIOR CLASS
PROSPECT PARK

Foreword

The Senior Class, in publishing "The Prospector, 1950," aims to portray a clear picture of life at Prospect Park High School for the year 1949-1950, an enviable record in all phases of our activities.

Further honors are ours, such as we believe no class in our public or private school systems has ever received. The photographs we reproduce on the dividing sheets which follow speak for themselves. We wish to express our gratitude to many of the men in whose hands lies the destiny of our nation, who through their generosity have found time to stop a moment in their busy lives to encourage and inspire the students of this small high school.

We accept with humility these unexpected expressions of good will from our nation's leaders. Each recognition is indeed a living picture of the little things that form the composite which portrays the greatness that is American Democracy.

For these photographs we are indebted to Mr. Albert J. Rothe, a former local business man who is now in close touch with these men in his professional capacity. We appreciate, no less than the photographs themselves, the kindly interest and loyalty Mr. Rothe shows in assembling them and presenting the collection to his home town public school.

We believe that in speaking for our student body we are the voice of the high school population of our nation in pledging this generation to carry on the Democratic Spirit displayed in these generous acts.

Dedication

RICHARD WRIGHT

We take great pleasure in dedicating the 1950 Prospector to our friends and advisors, Miss Ruth Atkinson and Mr. Richard Wright, who have so capably aided and guided us in our senior year.

In this dedication we cannot forget the loyal leadership of our former advisors, Miss Elizabeth Craven and Mr. Robert Moffett.

We take this opportunity to express our appreciation to these friends who have guided us as we have progressed, and to Mr. Albert R. Thompson, who helped so much to make this yearbook possible.

Similar recognition and thanks are extended to the entire faculty, who without exception have been unstinted in their encouragement and assistance in both classroom and extra-curricular activities.

Prospector Staff

The Staff, headed by Editor-in-Chief Harris Meisel, and aided by advisor Albert R. Thompson has taken the combined efforts of its members and molded these works into a year book of which the Class of 1950 can well be proud for many years to come. They gave much of their own blood, sweat and tears but during those famous meetings in Room 23 the staff changed these three supreme sacrifices into ink, copy, and press to present this fine memento of the Class of '50.

The names of the hard working members of this praiseworthy staff are listed below.

Literary Staff: M. Craddock, B. Adams, M. Bryant, N. Naef, Editor: B. Griffith, E. Meckley

Our Principal's Message...

RUSSELL L. WILLIAMS

EDUCATION'S CHALLENGE

The problems of Education are a reflection of the problems which challenge American freedom with ever increasing force. They focus on the critical need to enlarge the scope of education from a system of abstract specialized study to one aimed toward the achievement of the great social values.

The preservation of American democracy is dependent on the schools doing their share toward preventing the spread of subversive doctrines, cutting down the crime rate, reducing the divorce index, increasing the participation in elections, and controlling pressure groups who have little concern for the common welfare. This can only be accomplished through democratic class rooms who focus their attention on active, functional, meaningful learning experiences which concern the students and their needs in contemporary life

"To Prospect Park 1950 Graduating Class with best wishes."

CLASSES

Juniors

The Juniors began their new year by electing officers: President, John Ward; Vice-President, Edward Fogel; Secretary, Patricia Patton and Treasurer, Irene Brown. To complete the Executive Board Robert Gorbey, Milton Hedrick, Joan Likens, and Merry Rhys were chosen.

Student Government Representatives for the first semester were Irene Brown, Milton Hedrick, George Slaymaker, Merry Rhys, and Edward Fogel. Irene Brown, Patricia Patton, Jack MacArthur, and Marilyn Shock took over for the second semester.

The greatly appreciated class advisors were Miss Prescott and Mr. Wray, who gave much expert guidance.

The first real thrill of the year for these active juniors was the purchase of their class rings in October. These rings were quite different from previous ring styles used in our school.

To begin their money making projects for their Junior year, they held a successful bake and started their treasury rolling once again.

The Juniors could hardly wait for their prom which was held on February 18. On the night of the prom, the Masonic Hall was covered with Valentine decorations. The Juniors certainly enjoyed themselves dancing in this beautiful setting.

They also put on some very excellent assembly programs, one of which was the "Arthur Godfrey Show", a program enjoyed thoroughly by all.

Among the members of the Junior Class we find a wealth of athletic ability that has contributed much to the school's athletic program.

Now the Juniors are looking forward to the last and latest year of all before they are free from thoughts of school. They are sure to be a great asset to the school next year when they take over as Seniors.

Pat Patton, Sec'y.
Edw. Fogel, V-Pres.

Irene Brown, Treas.
John Ward, Pres.

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class spent their first year of high school by electing as their officers: President, Donald Marryott; Vice-President, Dick Heinze; Secretary, Cornelia Scott; Treasurer, Joan Williams; and Student Government Representatives for the first semester and Joan Williams, Joan Fancan, and Elva Davis for the second semester.

The class pins finally arrived. They are a little different from the usual style. The pins came just before Christmas and were proudly worn thereafter.

The Sophomores began their projects to raise money for senior activities. The Sophomores had started a merchandise club, which proved to be a success. The club's profits continually increased their bank account. At Christmas time the class sold wrapping paper to help add to their funds.

The exciting climax to this very successful year was their Sophomore Hop which was held in the Fire House May 13th. A wonderful time was had by all and they have the memory of this dance to cling to until the big event coming next year, the Junior Prom. This class will probably be quite capable of leading the school by the time they get to be seniors. The Sophs were lucky to have such capable advisors as Miss Ellis and Mr. G. L. King.

The Sophomores are looking forward to their Junior year as the next step leading to their success.

Cornelia Scott, Sec'y
Joan Williams, Treas. Donald Marryott, Pres
Dick Heinze, V-Pres (absent)

Freshmen

The Freshman Class began their last year of junior high school by organizing a homeroom club.

Action was ever present in this group during the magazine drive which was a huge success. This drive was held in the fall and greatly increased the Freshmen's bank account.

The Freshmen decided to wait until January to elect officers, so they would have more time to think about their selection. They elected: President, William Patterson; Vice-President, John Van Wyke; Secretary, Anne Stein; and Treasurer, Larry Hall.

Student Government Representatives Marvin Adams, Earl Beck and Nancy News were elected for the first semester, and Eric, Grace Gorbey, and John Van Wyke for the second semester. The Freshman Executive Board consisted of the class officers together with Harlene Rementer and Grace Gorbey.

The advisors were Miss Graham and Mr. Michener, who did a wonderful job and were greatly appreciated by the class.

The next big event that had these Freshmen all excited was the dance they had in the spring. For this activity our 10th graders worked hard and showed good cooperation. The decorations were done exceedingly well and the dance seemed to be a complete success.

The Freshmen have now finished their Junior High days and are looking forward to becoming Sophomores. These ambitious boys and girls are well on their way to becoming an even greater asset to our great school.

The Freshmen, an active class, hope that when they become Sophomores they can fill the shoes of that outgoing class.

Final wishes to 1948 Park High School for a successful 1949 football season - Line Red 3-1-4

SPORTS

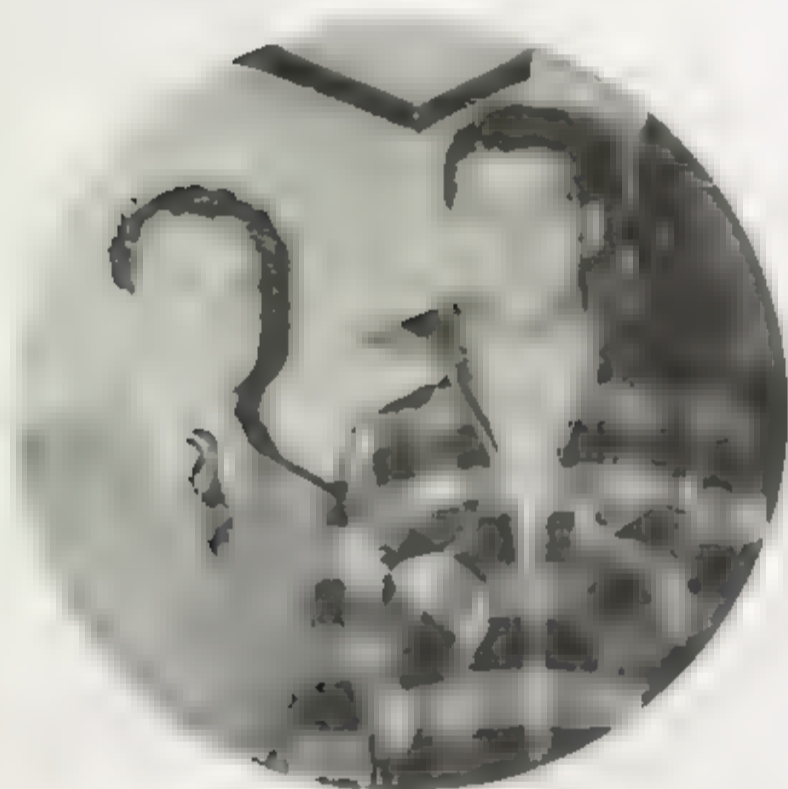

F

Francis X. Buchy, Coach
Richard Worley, Captain

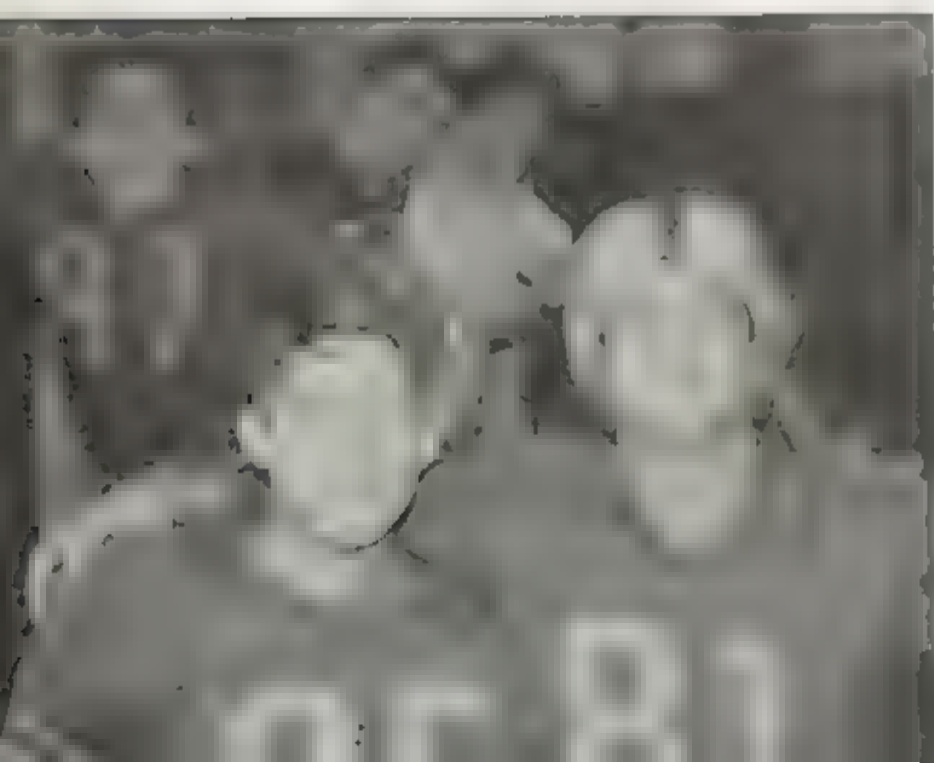

The 1949 football season brought a new coach, a new stadium, and our most successful football season since 1943.

Under Mr. Francis Buchy, Prospect switched back to the T-formation, with Captain Dick Worley at quarterback. Although during the season both Bob Hagerty and Dick Worley came up with broken legs, and Bob Janick suffered a fractured arm, the team still came through with a 7-2 record.

In the opener Prospect held Springfield in their own territory most of the game and won 13-0. For a while Clifton, our next victim, seemed to be a real threat but again the final score was in favor of Prospect 18-12.

We won the Darby game in a down-pour. The ball was slippery, but we held it long enough to defeat Darby 18-7. Again Fleenor and Hagerty did the bulk of the running.

The Prospect eleven defeated Sharon Hill 13-0 although Janick was still out with a fractured arm. Dan Higgins capably filled his place at tackle and excellent blocking was executed in this game by Harris Meisel, who doubled at center for the injured Miller. All thirteen points were scored by "Fleetfoot" Fleenor.

Prospect emerged still undefeated as Glen-Nor was downed by a score of 20-0 with Fleenor scoring twice and Hagerty and Hoffman each scoring once. The first loss in six starts was suffered at Ridley Township. Janick and Depew made some excellent tackles on defense. Hagerty broke loose long enough to make Prospect's only T. D. but the place kick was no good. Township finally won 26-6.

Prospect next came from behind to defeat a scrappy Eddystone team on long runs by Jack Fleenor. Fleenor scored the first T. D. by running 61 yards with a hand-off from "Itch" Worley and a point. After two 'Stoners T. D.'s and with less than two minutes to play, Prospect's Stoners kick off on Prospect's 15 and ran 85 yards for a touchdown. The final score: 15-12.

The real thriller of the season was the Swarthmore game. This game was an even one with scores of 14-14. Prospect won 14-13 on a last minute field goal.

On Thanksgiving morning, Prospect chalked up a final win by beating Ridley Township 14-0. All scoring was done during the first half with all the seniors playing. This was the last game.

The following Seniors received special mention: Mason Ashby: Chester Times (twice) and Sport Week All Delco 1st team; Chester Times, Sport Week and Coaches Ass'n "Lineman of the Week"; Franny Murray "All Scholastic Team"; Chester Times "Lineman of the Week", All State, Honorable Mention. Robert Hagerty: Franny Murray Team of Week (All Star); Chester Times and Coaches Ass'n "Back of the Week"; Sport Week All Delco 1st Team, Honorable Mention; Chester Times All Delco 1st Team. Jack Fleenor: Delaware Co. "Back of the Week"; Chester Times All Delco Honorable mention; Sport Week 1st Team All Delco; "All State" Honorable Mention. Robert Janick: Delaware Co. "Lineman of the Week"; Chester Times All Delco 2nd team; Sport Week All Delco 2nd team. William Walls, defensive Captain: Sport Week All Delco 2nd team "Lineman". Palmer Hoffman: Sport Week All Delco backfield, Honorable mention. Richard Worley, Capt.: Sport Week All Delco Backfield, Honorable mention.

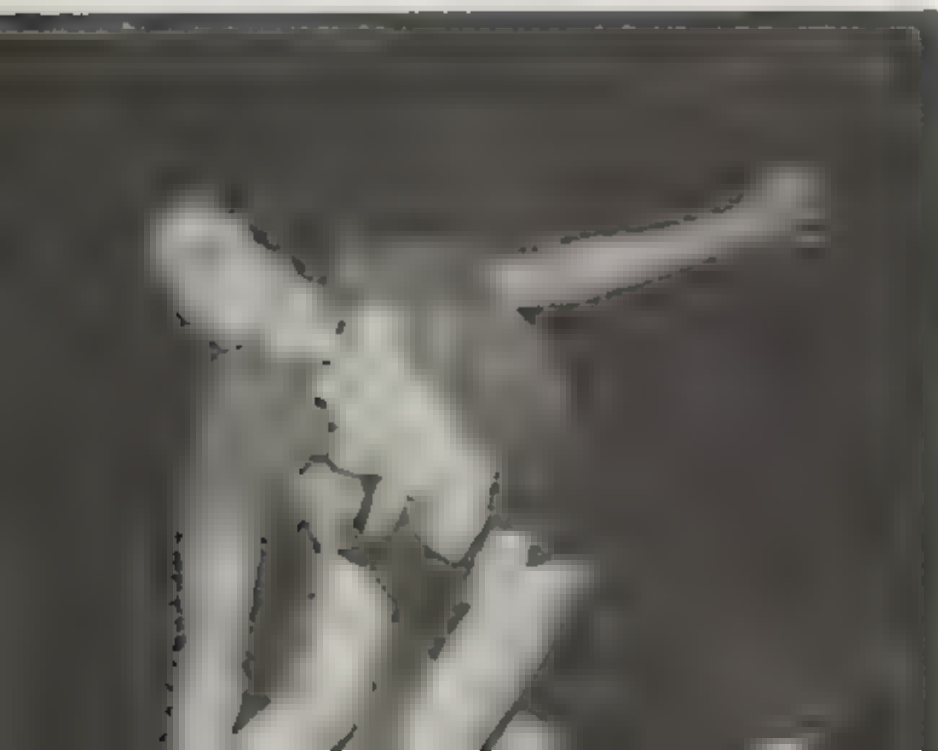

Underclassmen who helped make this team a success were Don Miller, Ed Depew, Tom Hall, Flip Fiorovanti, and Pete Cochran.

Much credit should be given to Mr. Buchy and Robert Waddell, senior manager, who gave so much time and work toward the betterment of the team.

Early last Dec. the new class girls went to the gym for ask to dance. During the evening a group of boys that for a while was in the gym and Miss Smith, Schmitt and the girls as part Mrs. McVee and the girls dance to the music of the pop music. This also pushed the girls side down some of the with Girls' Basketball....

This year was a very successful one for Prospect, being defeated by only one team. The girls started off with a bang by downing Collingdale 39-23. Marple-Newtown, Yearling, and Ridley Township were also handed sizeable defeats. The team met its match in Springfield, however, when the opponents eked out a 43-40 victory. Undaunted by this loss, the girls moved on to Ridley Park where they chalked up another win. Perhaps the most exciting game of all was the one at Eddystone. With the score teetering back and forth from play to play, the final whistle ended the game with Prospect on the fat side of a 42-40 score. For the last game of the season the team journeyed to its near-by neighbor Glen-Nor. That was the scene of another thrilling victory for Prospect this time by a 40-42 count.

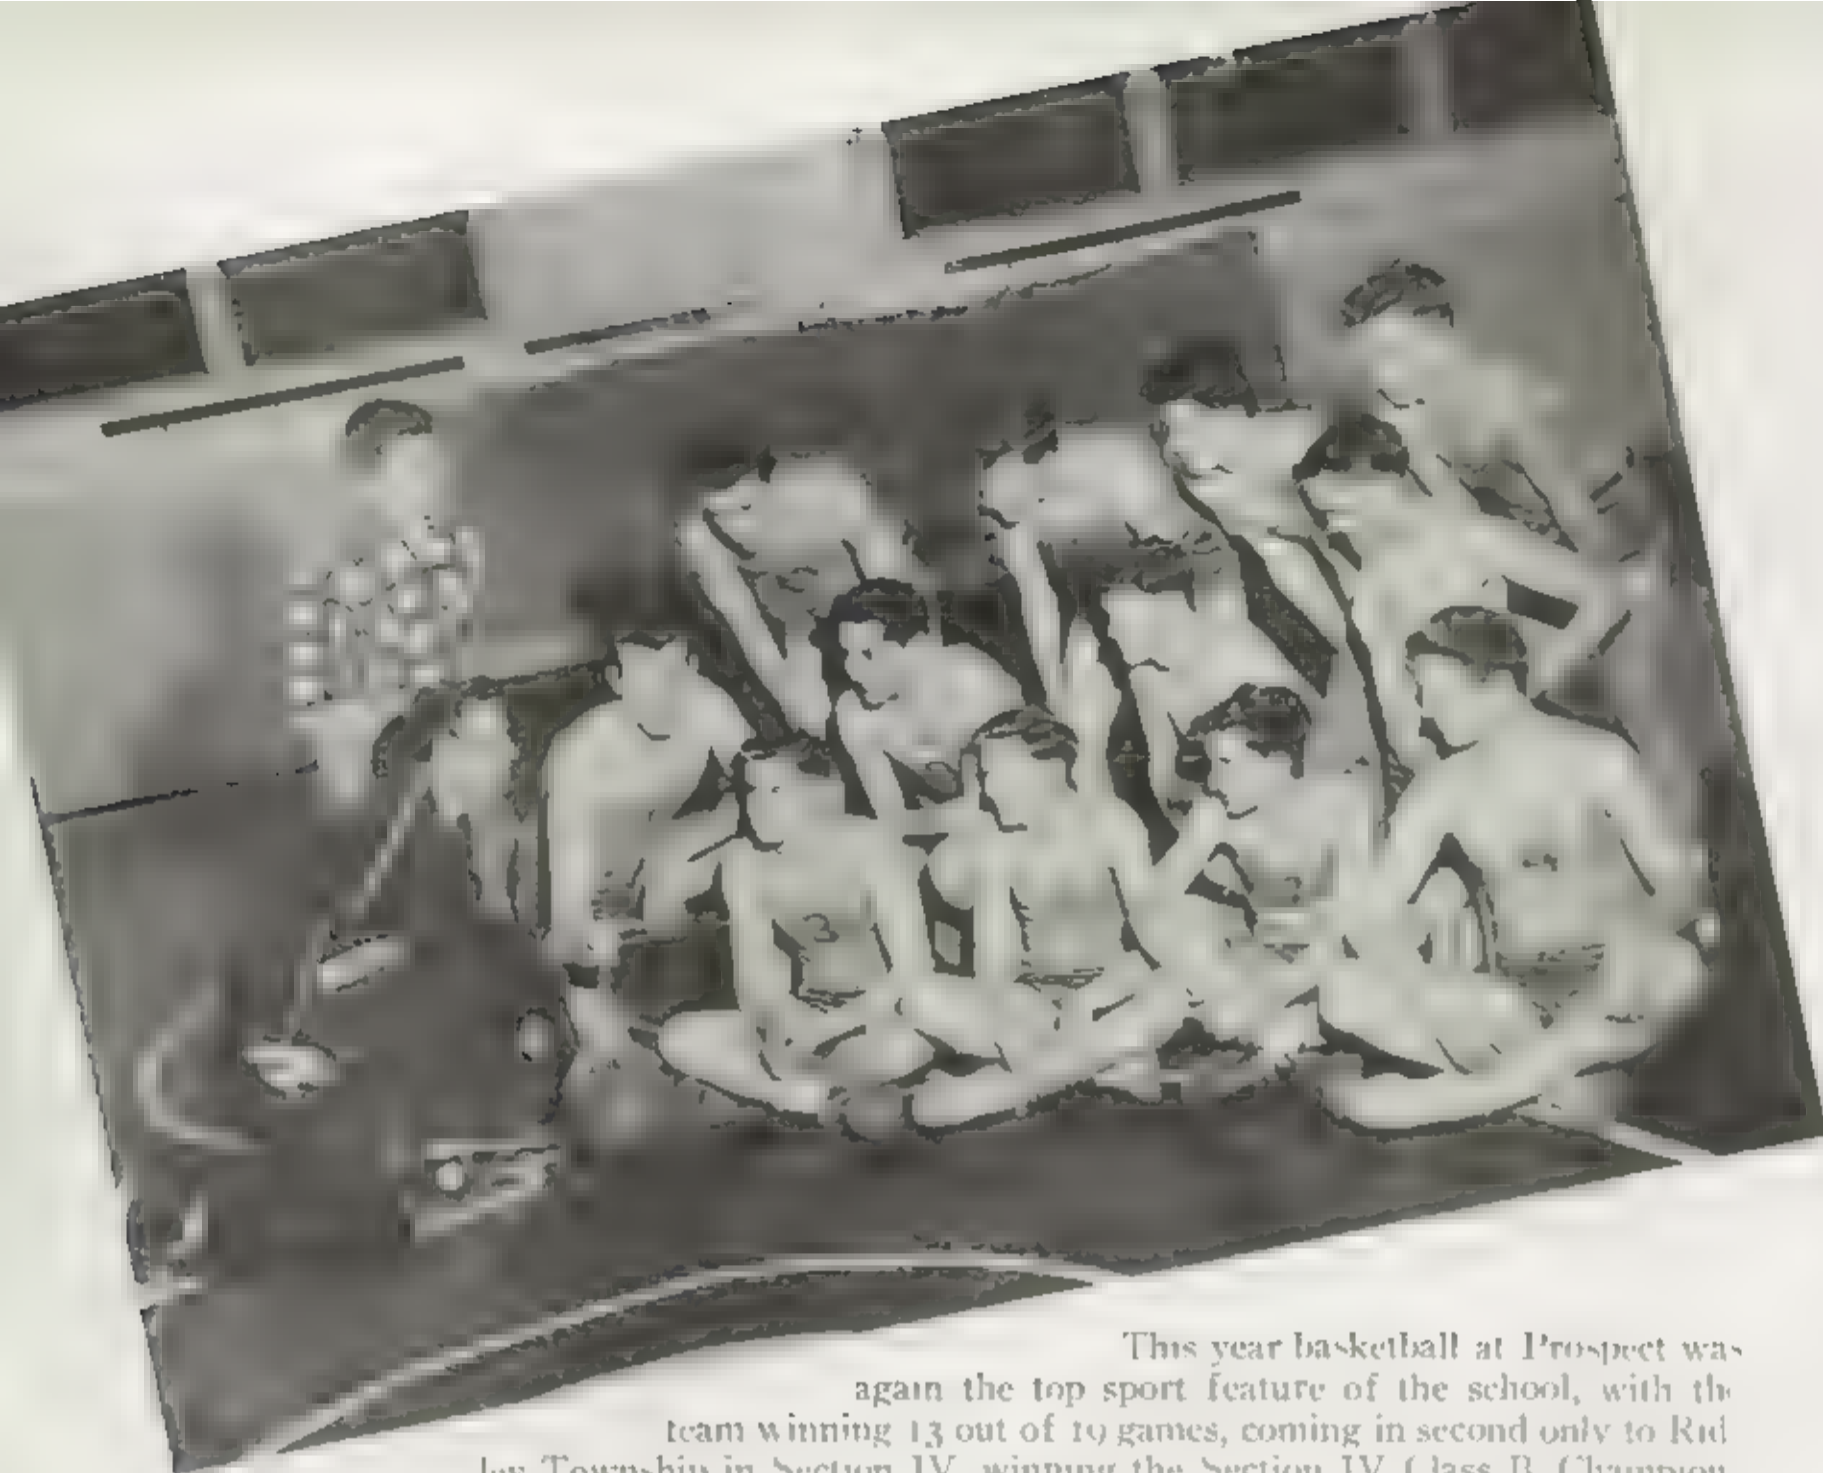

The total points compiled by the team as a whole were 379, the highest number for many a year. The scoring was divided among the forwards as follows: Pat Dillon scored 143 points, Ev Powell—134, Margie Morrell—65. Joan Yerk—37. The guard positions were capably filled by veteran Nancy Ackleson, Joan Likens and Margaret Clark. Without these unsung heroines the results of the season would have been far from successful.

Because so many girls were eligible, the girls didn't elect a captain for the entire season. Instead, each game was captained by a different girl.

One of the notable things about this year's squad, aside from the fact that the girls were enthusiastic and had the "will to win", was the total lack of seniors. The Class of 1950 was represented only by the efficient manager, Mary Bryant, who could be seen at all the games keeping either the score or the time.

The J. V.'s had an equally successful season, having only one defeat. This was at the hands of Ridley Park by the score of 20-...

This year basketball at Prospect was again the top sport feature of the school, with the team winning 13 out of 19 games, coming in second only to Ridley Township in Section IV, winning the Section IV Class B. Championship and winning the Delaware County Coaches Ass'n. Trophy at the beginning of the season.

Captain Bob Janick and Don Miller were the only starting varsity players returning but the members coming up to the varsity proved to be of high caliber.

Bob Hagerty and Pete Franklin were the other seniors on the starting team while "Flip" Fioravanti and Pete Cochran, underclassmen, did a great job on the team.

Valuable substitutes who were ready to step in at any time were Harris Meisel, Bill Walls, "Reds" Ward, Bill Burton, Ed Depew, and Ed Wilbank.

Before the regular season started, Prospect won the Delaware Co. Coaches' Association trophy by eliminating Clifton Heights and then Darby two nights later. Both games took place in Ridley Township's gym. In the first game, Prospect defeated Clifton Heights 52-42, and then Chester 57-19, and then Chester 57-19.

The regular season was started off with a win from Ridley Park 42-31.

Our basketekers then journeyed to Glen-Nor to trounce the Indians 61-41 with Don Miller tallying 17 points, and Pete Cochran, collecting 16.

The next game resulted in a defeat at the hands of Swarthmore, but Prospect came back to win a close but decisive game over Eddystone, 43-41, at the latter's court.

Back home again we lost a really tough one from Ridley Township, a hot team, 44-35. This seemed to slow down Prospect's attack, as we lost the next game to Sharon Hill, and then a close one to Ridley Park on their floor, 32-30.

We got back on the winning side by swamping Glen-Nor again 61-31.

In the next game the Blue and Gold found itself, and won, going away over Swarthmore on our own floor, 57-52. Janick was the high scorer of this game.

Then Prospect played Eddystone at home, and won, 74-37, the highest score any Prospect team has ever rolled up. The boys were really on that night.

The next game was with Haverford School, which we dropped in the last 3 minutes, 50-44, a very tough but good game. Haverford, by the way, finished as inter-academic champs.

Then, in the last game of the season, Prospect knocked down a highly-favored, unbeaten Ridley Township team to clinch the Section IV Class B championship, 44-35.

Pete Franklin found himself and was high scorer with 14 points. Then we lost to Sharon Hill, 39-25, on a night when nothing seemed to go right. Pete Cochran was absent from this game with a broken hand.

We also must mention the fact that Don Miller was chosen for the Coaches' Association All Delco Team and the All Section IV team, while Pete Cochran and Captain Bob Janick were chosen on the second All Section IV team.

Hockey

September 12th officially opened the season with the Hockeyettes' first practice. There they met their new and very capable coach, Miss Dorothy Schumann.

The first game of the season, which ended in a 1-1 tie, was against a very worthy opponent, Clifton Heights.

The second game was less exciting with the Prospectors bringing home a 5-0 victory over Ellis College.

Sharon Hill came down to hand Prospect its first defeat by a close 2-1 score. The girls tried hard and there was a great deal of action, but they could not seem to get that tying goal.

The next game, a tough one against Springfield, handed the Hockeyettes their second defeat with a score of 2-0. Captain Barbara Adams warded off several enemy goals and played a splendid game.

The girls then traveled to Ridley Park. They tried hard but the final score was in Ridley's favor, 3-2.

Against Collingdale, Prospect literally "caught on fire." Collingdale was downed by a score of 6-2.

In the Glen-Nor—Prospect game, our girls, especially in the backfield, played a very good game, but the Indians scored two tallies bringing the final score of the game to 2-0 in favor of Glen-Nor.

In our final game Prospect missed three of its regular members and met a fighting Township team. The final score was 3-2 in favor of Township.

The J.V.'s this year had an undefeated season. All of their games, under the very capable direction of Mrs. Goebel, were exciting and very well-played.

Baseball....

This year, with Mr. Buchy as the new head coach, the chances look good for the Prospect Park baseball team to finish high in the Section IV standings.

A well rounded infield and a hard hitting outfield pair off with a strong pitching and catching staff, to form a sure fire winning combination. Around the infield are: Bill Burton at first base; "Itch" Worley at second and Bill Kline holding down the hot corner while Don Miller capably covers the short stop position.

A youthful outfield is composed of Sophomores Ron Marriott, Lunwood Lilley, and "Flip" Fioravanti. On the pitching staff are Walt Parsons and Sherwood Ruth, with Captain Bob Janick as catcher.

Also playing a very important role on the team are the fellows who very capably fill the shoes of the starters, at frequent intervals. These able ball hawks are Don Wright, Pete Franklin, Bob Tyler, Jack Ponce.

"Reds" Ward, John Christensen, Jack Schade, Bill Worrell, and Tom Hall.

Mr. Richard Wright is Assistant Coach and Bob Waddell is senior Manager.

We must also mention the fact that this is the first year that our baseball team has been able to use the new field house for equipment and dressing quarters.

Track....

The track team, this year, under the able supervision of Mr. Edward V. Topping scheduled several meets including the Penn Relays, and open meets at Lansdowne, Norristown and Upper Darby. These are all very large meets with teams from many schools competing.

Although track is overlooked by many as a major competitive sport at Prospect, the turnout of candidates has been large and the

The seniors who help to comprise our track team are: Palmer Hoffman, our co-captain and shot-put expert; Mason Ashby, co-captain, sprinter and quarter miler; Don Wright, sprinter and broad-jumper; Bob Hagerty, sprinter and jumper and Bob Tapper, runner and broad-jumper. These plus underclassmen Bill Smith, Bob Lenz David Sheppard, Walter Frazer and many others, too numerous to mention, make up our list of varsity speedsters and field men.

The Junior High speedsters also have several meets scheduled with members competing in almost all of the track and field events. The Junior High relay team is a fine combination and is expected to do quite well.

We should also mention Harris Meisel, the hard working Senior Manager, and Raymond Sheppard, the student Assistant Coach.

The fellows on the squad this year show many qualities which are necessary for a team which can develop winning ways. There is an abundance of enthusiasm among the team members. There is also a great abundance of talent coupled with team harmony and cooperation. Since these factors are the things which make for a winning team, the track followers at Prospect Park should be far from disappointed.

Our much improved Senior Band, under the direction of Mr. Harry Cool, opened the school year with many morning practices in order to get ready for the football season. During the season, as a result of all those practices, the band thrilled the spectators with unusual marching routines, while the colorguard and majorettes, with their precision marching and spectacular twirling routines, kept the spectators fascinated. During the time-outs the band surprised the crowd with "Trombone Boogie," a jazzy song that did a lot to help pep up, not only the team, but also the crowd.

Later, at Christmas, the band really showed its talent by playing beautiful Christmas music for the P.T.A. Christmas Program. Everyone was pleasantly surprised at the really difficult numbers the band was able to play.

A few of the group began its practice with a dramatic monologue, reciting lines at every free moment. The first rehearsals were hectic as the group stumbled through the book, trying to get the story, but after moving to the stage, things began to run more smoothly.

A typical practice might run like this: At seven thirty a few early arrivals would grope their way through the dark to find the brightly lit stage. After the first shock of the cold, I'd open the door and we'd get going. Pat went first, then me. Finally, we had a few more people to proceed. Everything was fine until we reached page two and found Mr. Carter. His only job was to ask questions. After this delay, the play continued. With the cast huddled, I gave the troupe the time to keep going, the music started up, we went on with the results, but again we came to Mr. Carter's. And there was he. "Are you hanging up that phone and get in here?" So when Mr. Carter was running to the stage we began again.

On Hallowe'en the Spirits, (or was that Jack Fleenor?), treated us, and everyone was treated to a good supper and entertainment. The cast was treated to a dance party by Miss Hart.

When the final curtain had fallen, we knew that "Strictly Formal" had been a success due to Miss Atkinson's capable direction and the cooperation of the cast and the entire Senior Class.

Senior Ball....

On the cold, clear evening of March 3, 1950, the Senior Banquet and Ball was held at the Aronimink Country Club.

Upon arriving at the club we found it to be a magnificent place. We entered the hall and once inside we just gaped at its beauty . . . that's the best way to describe it.

After the girls had taken off their wraps, they scooted down the hall to the powder room (as seems to be the custom for all females at such affairs!) Here they pinned on their corsages and ran combs through their "nary a strand out of place" hair. They then went out among the impatient boys, to find their escorts, who, looking very sharp in their tuxedos, met their glowing Juliets with proper ardor.

We then entered the dining room (when tables and chairs were removed, the ball room) where the tables, decorated in red and white on a graduation theme, gave a regal appearance unsurpassable for perfection.

In front of each girl's place were small bottles of perfume or a lipstick, a small paper in form of a diploma with the little notations such as "who I went with", etc., and the regular programs.

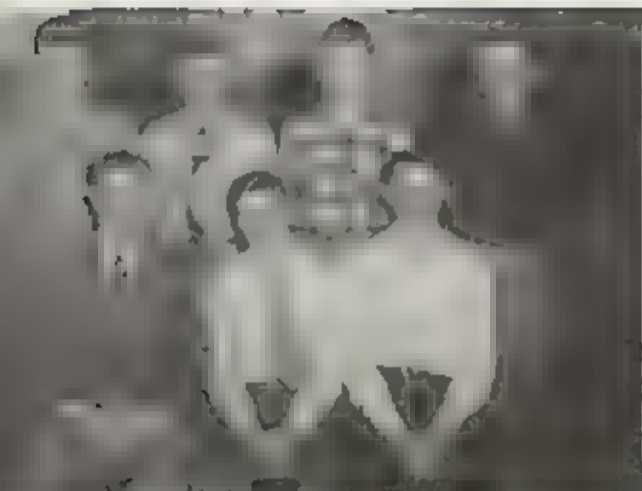

After consuming a wonderful turkey dinner, all the couples moved out onto the floor to dance to the dreamy music of the Glendale Orchestra.

A white flash of bulbs, (which oftener than not, caught us quite unexpectedly while we were dancing,) verified the presence of photographers. The pictures, we might add, turned out very well. Of course, couple's pictures were taken, with all proud as punch of their dates.

A very enjoyable evening was had by all, and at the end of the ball at twelve o'clock (the magic hour), each little princess and her prince charming went home tired, but very happy.

- I, Robert Janick, bequeath my ability to hold up football dummies without getting hurt to Walt Fraser.
- I, Lorene King, bequeath my love for dancing to Joan McFerren.
- I, Eleanor Meckley, bequeath my high Chemistry marks (?) to Bobbie Griffith.
- I, Harris Meisel, bequeath my devastating height under the backboards to Chuck Bohan.
- I, Roberta Miles, bequeath my ability to graduate to my brother, "Rich".
- I, Nancy Naef, bequeath all the fun I have had in my Senior year to the Majorettes and my sewing ability to the Sophomore girls.
- I, Stanford Nagle, bequeath my boxing skill to Bob Lenz.
- I, Richard Nelson, bequeath God's guidance through High School to my sister, Marilyn.
- I, William Palmer, bequeath a lot of success in future school years to my sister, Lois.
- I, Margaret Rhodes, bequeath my sewing ability to Barbara Strohm.
- I, Muriel Richmond, bequeath my height to Ginney Moore.
- I, Donald Riggins, bequeath my ability to speak Spanish to Donald Miller.
- I, William Shannon, bequeath my ability to get along with certain teachers to Wesley Richardson, who needs it very badly.
- I, Raymond Sheppard, bequeath my place in school to anybody who wants it.
- I, Dorothy Stahosky, bequeath my ability to get along with A.R.T. to "Dee".
- I, Charles Stith, bequeath my departure to all bereaved underclassmen.
- I, Robert Tapper, bequeath my ability never to be late to class to Thomas Schilling.
- I, Norma Trump, bequeath my dancing ability to Marilyn Schock.
- I, Robert Waddell, bequeath my ability to manage the football team to Marvin Adams.
- I, William Walls, bequeath my ability to blush easily to any fool who wants it.
- I, Barbara White, bequeath my ability to be a Majorette to my sister, June.
- I, William Wilson, bequeath all the fun I had in school to my brother Ronnie.
- I, Richard Worley, bequeath my beard to anyone who wants it.
- I, Geraldine Woznicki, bequeath my place on the hockey bench, along with my moldy gym suit to Evelyn Powell, and my ability to get "best dressed" to Elaine Dugan.
- I, Donald Wright, bequeath all my excess food to Janet Scott.

Class Prophecy

On the eve of the tenth anniversary of the graduation of the class of 1950, I set out to discover the destinies of this class of the half-century.

While pondering the means of transportation I would use to reach my widely scattered classmates I noticed Dick Diamond's taxi parked at the curb. Hopping in, we started on our journey. First stop was Campen's to buy a camera to record this unusual trip. There we were ushered into a plush modern selling room where Lillian Bader, the executive manager, showed us their wares.

After purchasing a camera we chugged to Philadelphia and found Edith Bradford and Muriel Richmond to be secretaries for Philadelphia's new newspaper, "The Daily Star", which Don Riggins, the argumentative editor, capably runs. I understand that Don features controversial subjects showing his viewpoint and Mr. Thompson's opposite ideas. I read an article in the "Star" the other day about Stan Nagle, the chemist who set out to prove that some compounds that did not exist could be created. Stan always did doubt the chemical laws.

We glanced at a roadmap, then on to New York and Broadway. En route I noticed a gay flower shop and we stopped to buy some flowers to send to Marie Dougherty, who was leaving that afternoon with the American Olympic teams for Europe with her publicity agent, Doll Miles. Entering the shop whom should we see but Dot Stahosky, its proprietor.

We chatted with Dot for a few minutes and then left for New York. Arriving in the Big Town we went to Radio City where Peggy Rhodes and Joan Biester are prominent radio actresses. Joan, by the way is playing very novel comedy roles. Touring Radio City we viewed the art collection of Dick Nelson on display there. Dick is quite a famous modern artist.

Then to Macy's, that store of stores, which is capably managed by Dot Field. Gerry Woznicki is also connected with Macy's, doing their fashion designing. With Dot urging us on we dashed to the pier to see Marie and Doll off. Also patiently waiting to embark was Bop Tapper, who was leaving for Africa where he will do missionary work.

Hearing that Bill Walls is a math professor at Yale, we continued our journey northward. While in the New England states we went to hear a concert by that world famous Calder Symphony Orchestra. Bob is the most versatile member of the orchestra since he plays first trumpet, is a solo pianist and a singer.

Musically inspired we went to Bar Harbor, Maine, to visit Norma Burnham where she is vacationing with her husband, the millionaire boss she finally snagged. Our northward journey completed, we headed toward central Pennsylvania.

Driving through the farming section we were stopped by a herd of cattle crossing the road. Much annoyed by this delay, we hurried to find the farmer and discovered that it was Homer Hoffman. We soon forgot our anger and helped Homer with his charges. Homer told us that Mary Bryant was teaching in an elementary school in the vicinity so we rushed right over to get there before school was out. We asked Mary about the book that she's writing, and she managed to say a few words before chasing after a mischievous first-grader. Seeing that we would not be able to talk peacefully with Mary, we continued on our merry way.

We were enjoying the beautiful scenery when a large group of boy scouts attracted our attention. We noticed immediately that their leader was Pete Franklin. Pete was very busy rubbing sticks together so we didn't bother him. A few miles farther and we arrived back in Prospect Park with our journey half completed.

We were very thirsty after our long trip, so we stopped at the Rexall Drug Store which is capably managed by Ray Sheppard and Lorene King. I hear they're doing quite well in spite of the competition of Bussy Meisel. Visiting Bubs' store is a trip in itself for he has expertly decorated it with his own art work. While in Prospect I found that some other classmates had gone into business there. Barbara Adams is successfully operating a beauty parlor. I hear she has created some stunning new hairdoes. Viola Hewitt is also busy with her nursery school. Viola started with a few students and now has the largest private nursery school in Pennsylvania. Last week Bobby Burnett, the noted child psychologist, visited the school to gather information for use in her annual National Report on child behavior. She travels constantly and has visited thousands of schools.

Class Prophecy

As we left Prospect to complete the trip we passed Bob Waddell riding in his shiny new Sun Oil car. Bob is their super salesman. Although selling is a big job, Bob still finds time to help out with the football team. We soon left Pennsylvania again but this time we headed south. Traveling through Maryland Dick spied a red-haired farmer busily plowing his fields. "That looks like Bill Burton," he said, so we screeched to a stop. Although we yelled with all our might we couldn't be heard above the roar of the tractor and had to leave without speaking to Bill.

As we reached the Chesapeake we gasped with amazement as we admired the new suspension bridge across the bay. Fred Coffman was the engineer who created this marvel. Lenny Edge is the chief bridge operator. When he hears the three toots of an approaching ship, he carefully presses a button which lights the understructure of the bridge thus preventing any ships from colliding. Lenny likes the job but says those toots ruin his sleep.

While we were crossing the bridge a destroyer passed under and we saw Don Hetzner and Bill Herbert, now in the Navy, shouting orders to their men. Following the ship came Bill Shannon in his motor boat. Bill lives in Maryland and spends most of his time riding up and down the rivers trying to perfect a new motor.

We journeyed farther south into Virginia. As we rode along a country road the strains of martial music reached our ears. Our curiosity overcame us and we went to find the source. Soon we arrived at a large Army camp, not a regular one, but a women's camp. General Eleanor Meckley along with a number of government notables was reviewing her troops. Bob Christie is also in the Army, stationed in Japan. Traveling on we came to Williamsburg where Marcia Craddock is doing research in botany. Marcia is also president of the Bosh Pritchard Fan Club. In Newport News we visited Barbara White, who was busy at work redecorating a house. Barbara is the head of her own business now and has clients in all parts of the country.

We left Virginia and in a few days reached Georgia, where we went to see an exhibition game between the Georgia Rebels and the Prospect Rams. We found that Waks Hagerty, Itch Worley, Bob Janick, and Jack Fleenor are still on the same team, although all are not players. Itch is the coach who has guided the team to five straight world championships. Waks also does a sid-line job as sports announcer. He has quite a following and broadcasts all the big games. The backbone of the team consists of Jack Fleenor and Bob Janick. Bob is one of those amazing athletes who play two professional sports. He takes up baseball after the gridiron season.

On to Florida after the game, which the Rams won, of course. We registered at the swank Miami Hotel. That night at dinner, the diners were thrilled by the music of Don Wright's "Stardusters". Dolores Bradfield is featured as their soloist and attracts a large crowd with her magnetic voice. Charlie Stith arranges the tours for the "Stardusters" and plays the bass drum when needed.

Bright and early in the morning we went out to Daytona Beach to watch Rich Jackson race his motorcycle. Rich really burns up the sand and takes many trophies doing it. Since Florida was our southernmost point we called Nancy Naef in Hawaii from there. Nancy, now Mrs. Hunter, is teaching home economics in the backwoods while Paul flies his airplane. After talking to Nancy we started back home.

In a few days we saw the dome of the Capitol and stopped to see our politicians in Washington. Mason Ashby, the Chinese ambassador, was addressing the press on the foreign situation. He just arrived back in the states for a visit. Mase told us that he sees a lot of Yun Yong and Helen Wu in China. Yun is a pharmacist and Helen a nurse in one of the large hospitals. Norma Trump was in the building typing copies of his speech. Over in Congress, Bill Wilson was reciting a poem while filibustering against a new bill. Although we didn't see him, I understand that Bill Palmer is running the senatorial pool parlor.

Now we were almost at our journey's end with only two classmates to contact, Betty Griffith and Joan Fisher. Betty is a secretary in Ala ka; she always wanted to travel and is now doing it. Joan is a happily married housewife in New Jersey.

Now that we have seen our classmates at work, we are sure that the class of 1950 produced fifty-four citizens of whom the United States can be truly proud.

History of

As we, the Class of 1950, prepare to take a step ahead into the future, let us look back a few years to the time we entered our first year in high school and review the happy moments we had together.

If we look back four years to September, 1946, we find ourselves Freshmen preparing for our first class meeting. At this time, we elected Donald Wright, President; Richard Worley, Vice-President; Margaret Parsons, Secretary and Mason Ashby, Treasurer. Miss Elizabeth B. Craven and Mr. Robert Moffett were chosen as advisors.

Many activities made our Freshman year a busy one, and we found that our biggest event was a magazine drive sponsored by the Curtis Publishing Company. The result of this drive was a very considerable expansion of our bank account. We also held a class party and dance in the gym. Dancing was to the music of Vaughn Monroe, Bing Crosby and Eddy Duchin, (recordings of course).

Almost without warning our summer vacation was over and we were back to the books again. This was our second year in high school and we felt a little more important. Before we became too excited about the many activities ahead of us, we decided to call a class meeting and elect our officers for the year. Donald Wright once more was elected President; Richard Worley, Vice-President; Margaret Parsons, Secretary and William Walls, Treasurer.

At long last it was time to order our class pins: Everyone was very excited when our order was placed and we waited anxiously. The day finally came when they arrived, and we were filled with pride and joy over our first purchase of school jewelry.

It was time for us to have the annual Sophomore Bake. This event found everyone of us among our friends, the day of the bake, collecting all the cakes, cookies, etc. The results of this event proved that we, too, could reach the higher income brackets.

Then in May, we trotted out our very best "glad raiment" for our Sophomore Hop. It was held in the gym and was enjoyed by all. The gym was beautifully decorated with streamers going from the ceiling and circus ornaments on the wall. All too soon it was time for school to close for the summer vacation.

In September everyone, home after vacation at the shore and mountains, eagerly prepared to get back to school and settle down. Object? . . . Study! Here we were in our Junior year! My but time goes by quickly! A class meeting was immediately called. Like other years, we started out by electing class officers. William Walls, a very capable worker and leader, was elected President; George Franklin, Vice-President; Margaret Parsons, Secretary and Richard Worley, Treasurer.

As soon as possible we settled down to work. One of our money-raising projects for this year was selling programs at all the home football games. In good weather or bad, our classmates faithfully helped our treasury to increase in size.

Our next topic for discussion at class meetings was class rings. Several jewelers' representatives came to show us their styles of rings, but Josten's design was chosen over all. It was different in style from those of previous classes and it set a new precedent. It was a long wait, but they arrived on December 20th, just in time for Christmas.

Then came the highlight of the year. Our Junior Prom was held in the Masonic Temple on March 19th. The girls, attired in their new gowns and the fellows in their "best" suits, danced to the music of the P. M. C. Grenadiers. The hall was filled with the happy sound of laughter and song, and congratulations and praise from dancers and friends gave our committees much satisfaction.

The last day of school,—and we walked down the middle aisle in Assembly and sang "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" as we left for our vacations.

Having acquired the grand and glorious title of Seniors, we began to make plans for the future. We had a change in advisors and were indeed fortunate in getting Miss Ruth Atkinson and Mr. Richard Wright. The first job as Seniors was to elect new officers. Donald Wright was elected President; Bob Janick, Vice-President; Nancy Naef, Secretary and George Franklin, Treasurer. William Walls, Palmer Hoffman, Dorothy Field, and Harris Meisel were selected as members of the Executive Board.

Football season soon rolled around and found the Seniors in charge of the Hot Dog Stand at all the home games. The class chose Maintenance, Selling and Buying Committees to handle this affair. These people did a wonderful job and it was only through them that the class made a large profit.

Our Yearbook got under way in October. Trying to look as pretty or as handsome as we could we posed as the photographer took our pictures. A few weeks later, Mr. Thompson's room was a mad house with anxious seniors trying to see the results. The next thing to do was to elect editors. Harris Meisel, who has had a lot of experience in editorial work, was elected Editor in-chief; Lillian Harder, Business Manager; William Walls, Advertising Manager; Nancy Naef, Literary Editor; Dick Nelson, Art Editor; Dorothy Field, Typing Editor; Richard Worley, Photography Editor and Donald Wright, Patron Editor.

The next project on our busy agenda was a Bake, which was held on October 15 on a most conspicuous spot on Lincoln Avenue. This was a huge success, netting us well over a hundred dollars.

After weeks of practice our class just about perfected a skit entitled "Strictly Formal", was presented on December 9th. Thanks to Miss Atkinson and an enthusiastic cast our play went down in the records as another enjoyable performance. Shortly after this, we held a Christmas Dance at Campen's. Dancing to the strains of the recorded music, we already envisioned the splendors of our first formal affair, the Senior Ball and Banquet.

Finding a place for this big event was quite a problem, but at the last minute we were able to get the Astor Club. There every one enjoyed the food and the music of the Glendale Orchestra.

Two of the most memorable, strictly-for-laughs events were the hockey and basketball games between the Senior and Junior girls. As a result of our boys' efforts for under the mites under the task. The boys' program, with overwhelming victories in both cases.

It was also during our senior year that much of our class's hidden talent was discovered. It took two assembly programs to bring it to light—one, the hilarious "football game", the other, the "amateur hour."

Feeling the need for still more money, we busy seniors, with the help of our mothers, put on a fashion show on March 23. This pre-Easter parade was quite profitable, and, as we looked ahead to spring and the Senior Trip, we were never happier.

And at last it came! The New York trip—ah, what magic words! They spelled three wonderful days of carefree freedom; the trips to the Statue of Liberty, the Bowery, Chinatown; the visit to the United Nations; the stage show; and of course the sleepless nights at the Hotel Taft!

But all good things must come to an end and this was no exception. We were brought down to earth again by the coming of our final exams.

With these out of the way we realized that our school days were almost over. This fact was made even clearer after our impressive Baccalaureate service, which was held at the high school for the first time, and our original and unusual Class Night was presented.

Now, only Commencement lay as a link between our unforgettable years of school and the great outside world.

Finally we were marching solemnly down the aisle to the inspiring strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." As we received our diplomas, we each saw the fulfillment of the first big milestone in our lives.

EXPERIENCE IS A GREAT TEACHER

'The Prospector's' first business contacts with advertisers in 1932, have ripened into rich and lasting friendships.

We urge our readers to lend their patronage to these businessmen. We know from experience that the courtesy and fair dealing they receive will enrich the social and economic life of this community
